Relax and take a break with green tea!

You can drink delicious green tea
with a meal or whenever you want to relax.

In fact, there's more to green tea than its flavor.

Green tea has plenty of components that are good for your body, too.

Catechins are just one example.

Cold brew green tea is especially recommended to boost your immune system or relieve stress.

It's the perfect drink for when you want to take a break.

These effects vary depending on how you brew or drink the tea.

Find your own favorite way to enjoy tea
according to your lifestyle and mood.
